Pauline Vogelpoel MBE      Organising Secretary

My report which I have pleasure in presenting covers the Society's activities from June last year until today. Mr. Peter Meyer our Treasurer will cover the Society's financial year which ended in December 1968 in his speech which follows mine.

The buyers for 1968, Michael Astor, Norman Reid and myself, spent just under £4,000 and acquired between us 22 works. This year the Buyers are David Sylvester and David Thompson. We were very sorry to lose Lord Croft, and Michael Astor when they retired from the Committee in accordance with Article 41 and this year we are to lose James Melvin and Alan Bowness. All these members have served the Committee admirably during their terms of office.

During the later part of last year and earlier part of 1969 we presented 120 works to 97 member galleries both here and abroad. This, I hope you will agree, is an excellent performance even though it does mean that our stock is temporarily depleted and we must ask the many organisations who borrow works from us to be patient.

I am sorry to have to report that some members, despite repeated requests, have not altered their Banker's Standing Order and are still paying their subscriptions at the old rate of one guinea. As you will know the new rate of two guineas was introduced in 1963 and is modest enough. I must appeal to anyone who has not already done so to put things right as soon as possible because we badly need the money in order to maintain, and if possible expand our buying programme. When we arranged the presentation to the Nation of Henry Moore's magnificent sculpture it was also our intention to acquire for subsequent presentation a work by one of the younger generation. We bought "Span" by Philip King. Pending a decision on the final location "Span" was shown at the Venice Biennale and later toured Europe. It is presently on loan to the Tate.

We gave the first evening party to be held at the wonderful new Hayward Gallery. This was for the Matisse Exhibition. Later we gave further evening parties at the Hayward to see the Van Goghs, Anthony Caro's Sculpture, and the marvellous Florentine Frescoes.

In September last year we were disappointed and surprised to have to cancel the party we had planned to mark the close of the Henry Moore Exhibition at the Tate Gallery. This was due to insufficient support. Unfortunately increased expenses in connection with the hire of the required number of men to invigilate exhibitions at the Tate ; insurance, electricity, and catering costs mean that we must achieve a certain minimum attendance to ensure that these basic expenses are covered. Miss Vogelpoel tries very hard to keep the price of all tickets as low as possible, at the same time endeavouring to make a small contribution to our funds. On October 19th a most successful and interesting visit was arranged to enable members to see the studios of Bridget Riley ; F. E. McWilliam and Eileen Agar all of whom were at home to members throughout the day. All the studios were within walking distance of each other and of the home of the Marquis and Marchioness of Dufferin and Ava who very kindly allowed members to see their fine collection. We also visited Mr and Mrs Peter Meyer's collection in Alexander Square, combined with one to learn the mysteries of the Circulation Department at the Victoria and Albert Museum. I would like to record how very grateful we are to all concerned for affording us these unique opportunities. Very recently on May 3rd members were invited to see Mr and Mrs Basil Gray's fine collection, of chiefly British 20th Century paintings, in their house at the British Museum. As this is soon to be vacated by them it was a rare and fortunate chance of seeing this collection so interestingly housed. On June 12th, we were once again allowed to use Britannic House, by kind permission of British Petroleum, to give a reception followed by a film show in their splendid cinema. The films shown were Lichenstein in London, Robert Rauschenberg, and Frank Stella and Larry Poons, which were most interesting in the light of the recent Art of the Real Exhibition at the Tate Gallery and the forthcoming Exhibition of Pop Art at the Hayward Gallery. We are grateful to National Educational Television in America for making some of the films available to us. We are of course greatly indebted to British Petroleum for their generosity and for making us feel so much at home in Britannic House. On June 14th and 15th five young Uruguayan artists kindly allowed members to see a preview of their exhibition "Cronus" in their Kensington flat, and this was an ingenious and interesting combination of sound, light and machines which was performed continuously in one room of the flat whilst in others individual works by the group were on view. We were very distressed to lose our

Assistant Secretary, Sylvia Wren, who died in April this year after many months of illness. She had been with us for six years and will be much missed by members who knew her and had occasion to correspond with her. We are pleased, however, to be able to welcome Mrs Delia Gould as her replacement. I must again thank and congratulate Pauline Vogelpoel on a year of successful activity and for her devotion to our cause.

We very much appreciate your continued support, but we do, more than ever, need the encouragement of increased membership and the additional resources it will provide. May I, therefore, ask you once again to try and interest your friends in the aims and activities of the Society and enlist at least one person each to join our ranks.

You will see from the Accounts that last year we incurred a deficit of £2,637. This, however, is after taking into account the expenditure of £2,938 on the special purchase of the work by Philip King referred to by the Chairman. It means, in effect, that for the second year running we have made a surplus on our normal running, but have dipped into our reserves for the purpose of buying an important piece of sculpture for erection on a public site in London. In order to make this purchase, we had to sell some of our investments (at a figure which showed a surplus of £86 over cost), so that our reserves are now down to only £3,605.

Turning to the Revenue Account for the year, there is a depressing sameness about most of the items, only two of which I feel I should mention.

The first is that we have started a pension scheme for our staff. It is ridiculous at the present time to think about our Organising Secretary arriving in some distant future at retirement age, but these extraordinary things do happen and we thought we ought to be prudent.

The second is our subscriptions which, I am sorry to say, are lower for the second year running. This is disappointing. We cannot grumble at the fact that our older members inevitably die, but it is a cause for complaint that we seem to find it so difficult to attract young members to take their places. Perhaps our Pop Party at the Hayward will prove to be the turning point, but, in any event, we are exploring other methods which we hope will achieve some measure of success.
